Honorable Kennard L. Fenton
Assistant Prosecuting Attorney
St. Charles County
First National Bank Building
St. Charles, Missouri

Dear Mr. Fenton:

In your letter of February 13, 1964, you inquire as to whether the clerk in the county magistrate court can use a legible "rubber stamp" to make entries in a record book instead of the present time-consuming method of typing in these entries.

We believe that either of the methods which you inquire about are appropriate if they result in a permanent and legible record entry.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS F. EAGLETON
Attorney General
